

Simplify complex forms with interactive, step-by-step guidance.

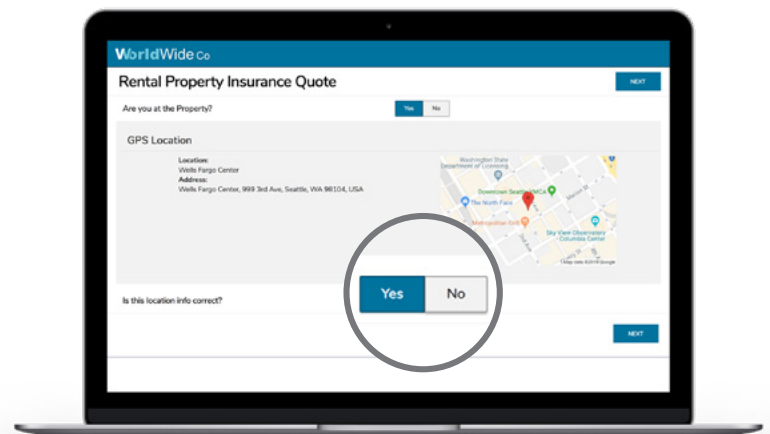

Forms are essential tools for collecting customer information and conducting business. But when you need complex information from a signer, captured from one or multiple forms, a traditional paper or PDF form is an invitation to frustration, errors, and support calls.

DocuSign Guided Forms provides a step-by-step experience to help your signers easily complete long or complex forms through questions that adapt based on previous answers. The result is a faster, friendlier experience for your signers, with fewer errors and friction

- Improve the customer experience with mobile-friendly forms tailored for device, location, and personal preferences.
- Save time and reduce errors by pre-filling forms with data from existing systems or documents.
- Ask only relevant questions based on current data, prior answers, and/or dynamically calculated values.
- Reduce abandonment rates with an intuitive, efficient process.
- Deploy and maintain Guided Forms without depending solely on IT teams, resulting in faster time-to-market.

Better together with DocuSign eSignature

When a signer completes filling out the guided form, the answers are automatically inserted into a signature-ready agreement in DocuSign eSignature. Both products are part of the DocuSign Agreement Cloud and are seamlessly pre-integrated. That means faster time to results for you.

Streamline the data collection process through an adaptive interview based on your signers' personal preferences, device, and location.

Key Capabilities

Fast and easy setup: Empower business users with simple drag-and-drop tools for designing intuitive and interactive digital experiences.

Context-driven question generation: Skip questions, or ask different or additional questions, based on device, location, personal preferences, existing data, or answers to prior questions.

Dynamic data population and enrichment: Bring in existing data from line-of-business systems and systems of record to pre-fill answers or return calculations.

Mobile and user-friendly: Deliver responsive forms that resize themselves on mobile devices. Allow signers to save work in progress and finish it later, whenever or wherever it suits them.

Universal connectivity: Leverage and deliver captured data in meaningful ways, e.g., to populate or update data sources, trigger workflows, or automate other business processes.
